SPECIAL SOUVENIR ISSUE TO CELEBRATE THE FIRST ANNUAL HARDCORE AWARDS

Congratulations!

The first Annual Hardcore Awards Ceremony was a resounding success with thousands of you voting for your favourite hardcore providers. For the last two years we have run an annual poll in the magazine and we were very pleased to be asked involved with the Elevation and Reincamtion event at Crystal Palace. Over the last few months there have been many dubious 'dance' awards, none of which reflect the true sound of the underground - hardcore! So here they are the official top rated performers of 1993 as voted by you.

Best Male DJ - Slipmatt and Randall (Joint Winners)
Best Female DJ - DJ Rap
Best Newcomer- Andy C
Best Rave Venue - Crystal Palace
Best Club - Innersense at The Lazerdrome
Best Record Label - Moving Shadow
Best Record Shop - Blackmarket
Best Radio DJ-Brockie
Best Hardcore Record - Long Dark Tunnel (Andy C)
Best MC - MC MC

Also deserving of a mention as very close runners-up were Jumping Jack Frost, Fabio, Devious D, The Helicopter Tune, AWOL, Lucky Spin (noe Section 5)

This awards ceremony has proved immensly popular and looks set to become an annual event. There will probably be imitations but you know the score! All the votes were cast by you by phone and by post, and were officially adjudicated by a panel of three independent judges.

THE ADVENTURES OF THE PIRATES or the Continuing story of Boss FM

THE YEAR 1994
THE PLACE A very high building somewhere in London
THE MISSION To put a 15' scaffolding pole with an 8' aerial attached to it down a 3" hole in a chimney pot.
"Honestly, there I was! On this roof! 300' up and nothing to hold on to and shitting myself Phil T, Bigger and the Sweet stayed on the ground saying they could be more help from down there
After The Sweet assembled the aerial we got the pole on the roof. Anyway - now came the hard part Lifting the weight of the pole and aerial and trying to get it in a 3" hole Have you ever seen a scotsman toss the caber? This is about as close to explaining it as I can get, except this was heavier and 300' up Me and Mal couldn't hold the weight on our own so we called down for help Our pirate motto being "1 For All and All For 1". We were told in no uncertain terms that it was much too steep and anyway the roof might cave in I got the feeling that me and Mal were being taken for a ride! Anyway after 20 minutes or so we managed (with a great deal of tempting death) to get the pole in the chimney pot Meanwhile the other pirates were shouting orders and in general taking the piss! Now the mission was complete! All we had to do was get down without waking anybody up! (remember, this is 4am) As we were getting down Mal slipped and fell! I watched helplessly as he scratched and grabbed at the slates, trying his hardest to grab hold of something! Anything as long as it would stop him falling off the edge. As he reached the edge he grabbed the guttering with both hands and hung on As Mal fell he knocked several slates off the roof Two slates landed in a garden, three or four fell into trees and a couple managed to find their way into Gino's Kebab house opposite The rest of the pirates (remember our motto 1for All and All for 1) decided that Gino's knife was bigger than their will to save me and Mal and promptly left the scene I'm not joking when I say that gino was rather annoyed he was in the middle of the street waving a rather large kebab knife and shouting naughty words in Turkish I could see him looking up trying to see where the missiles had come from that had destroyed his shop front window and ruined his display of other turkish dishes
I was now faced with these problems
1. Mal was hanging from the guttering 300' up
2. Gino was looking for blood or at the very least someone to compensate him
3. I couldn't get down without bumping into Gino And I couldn't leave Mal just hanging there!
4 The rest of the pirates had deserted the sinking ship. Me and Mal were on our own!
after about a minute of hanging from the guttering Mal started to scream "help" I tried to calm him down by telling him to shut up in case Gino saw us, but Gino was the least of Mal's problems Gino had now been in the middle of the street for some five minutes or so screaming in Turkish and waving his knife and most of the lights in the neighbourhood were starting to go on including the toilet light where Mal was hanging outside. Because Gino was making so much noise all the attention was on him At this point I slid down the tiles towards Mal When I reached Mal I kicked a hole in the slates and used my belt round the rafters to hold me to the roof whilst I grabbed Mal just as I pulled him up the toilet window opened and an old lady stuck her head out I was just about to start apologising for all the noise and damage we had caused when she shouted at the top of her voice "will someone shut that bloody lorriner up Piss off back to your own country" At this point Mal and I skipped over the roof down a drain pipe and legged it How this women didn't hear us on her roof, but heard Gino the killer Kebab man is a mystery to both me and Mal
We being the pirates would like to say sorry to Gino - and a little old deaf lady whose roof now leaks SORRY (and we promise to give you both a shout when we're on the air)
Watch this space for further adventures of the pirates
In the next exciting episode,
Phil T., The Sweet and Tricky D meet the Big Doctor
2 The Sweet gets taken prisoner by the Dreaded DTI crew
3 Phil T spreads the word The Boss is back
4 Where Bigger and Tricky D got 250' of co ax free
5 Bigger has a secret rendezvous with a dodgy looking bloke from telecom
6 The Master Plan begins to take shape, the DJ's are coming the MC's ready The Boss is the Word
These are the continuing adventures of,
THE PIRATES
respect to, All our listeners, Kool FM Formatt, Don, Pulse, Rush
REMEMBER All the stunts are done by complete nutters who love pirate radio and should not be attempted by anyone who is not a headcase or doesn't love jungle enough to die for it.

EVEN PIRATES NEED A BOSS

the bottom line

Don't forget, as mentioned in the last issue that Kiss FM is featuring hardcore DJ's in a weekly spot on Wednesday nights This is not a permanent situation though as it is only scheduled for about six weeks If you feel strongly that Kiss FM should make long term plans for hardcore then write to them c/o Gordon Mac Kiss FM, 80 Holloway Road, London N7

Obsession are currently trying to organise a four day beach festival in Cornwall to take place over the May Bank Holiday We've seen pictures of the site and it looks good Let's hope it goes ahead without a hitch

Many congratulations go out to Lazerdrome for winning the best club of the year award It was well deserved.

If it's your birthday on 19th March (and you can prove it) get along to Old Skool at The Location Cafe on the Mile End Road on that date and be treated to a free bottle of champagne! Plus of course loads of classic tunes Info on 081 470 2404

Another new flyer exchange has started under the name of Sector One. So if anyone wants to swap flyers then write to, sector One Flyer Exchange, 22 Ramsey House, Vassall Road, London SW9 6NB
